

To assemble the template, slightly overlap both pages so that the "A" stars and "B" stars sit directly on top of the other (hold them up to a light if you're having trouble seeing through the paper). Tape the two pages together, then cut out the template.

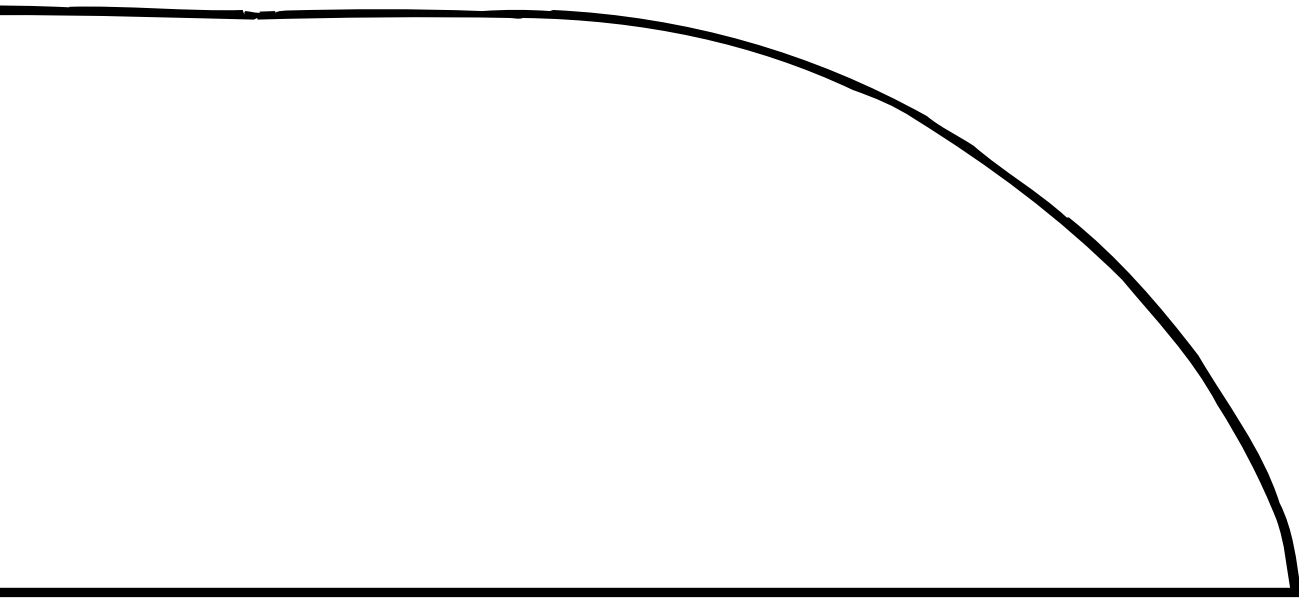

To use the template, place it on top of the folded piece of fur where the face opening should be (one inch down from the fold and flush against the right edge), then cut around it.
